

EUROPEAN COMMISSION

Directorate-General for Competition (DG COMP)

Publication of the post of Chief Technology Officer (grade AD14)

(Engagement of a Temporary Agent under Article 2(a) of the Conditions of Employment of Other Servants)

COM/2023/10424

We are

The Commission, together with the national competition authorities, directly enforces the EU competition rules to make markets work better, by ensuring that all companies compete equally and fairly on their merits. This benefits consumers, businesses and the European economy as a whole.

Within the Commission, the Directorate-General for Competition (DG COMP) is primarily responsible for these direct enforcement powers.

Operational directorates within DG COMP form part of a matrix structure where the different competition instruments (antitrust, mergers, State aid and the regulation of digital platforms) are managed around key sectors of the economy.

The Chief Technology Officer will report directly to the Director-General. S/he will advise the Commissioner responsible for Competition and the Director-General, guide and oversee all data-related and other digital projects, initiatives and work streams for DG COMP. The Chief Technology Officer will be at the helm of a Team that is to be a centre of excellence in digital tools and data science and that will have as its ultimate aim to support DG COMP's increasingly data-driven enforcement and market monitoring tasks.

The post is ranked at Director level (AD14). It is a temporary assignment for three years, renewable for maximum two years.

We propose

We propose a very challenging post of Chief Technology Officer to advise the Commissioner responsible for Competition and the Director-General on DG COMP's digital strategy, priorities and projects (including relevant procurement), including on the basis of studies by external experts or by the Chief Technology Officer, while guiding the Chief Technology Officer's Team (a unit attached to the Chief Technology Officer and managed by a Head of Unit) through highly sophisticated work streams, providing vision, overall strategic orientation, guidance and co-ordination of the Team's staff and activities.

The Chief Technology Officer will be in charge of ensuring that the Team meets DG COMP's ever-increasing needs for state-of-the-art data analytics and Forensic IT support. This requires a very good understanding of the needs of the business side and delivering solutions that match those needs while putting the specialist skills of the Chief Technology Officer's Team members to the best and most efficient use.

The Chief Technology Officer's Team will work in close collaboration with many other departments in DG COMP, in particular the unit in charge of Digital Business Solutions, as well as other Directorates-General in the European Commission, other European Institutions, Member States and external organisations. The Team will be composed of 16 staff members who are very dynamic, collaborative and service-oriented, driven by a passion for digital technologies.

The main tasks of the Chief Technology Officer's Team will include:

- Ensuring the quality and relevance of IT tools and methods owned and/or used by DG COMP, and advising the Director-General on, and overseeing the development and/or procurement of, updated or new tools and methods, where appropriate on the basis of studies by external experts or by the Chief Technology Officer;
- Advising on, and overseeing the roll-out of, updated or new IT tools owned and/or used by DG COMP;
- Using the latest digital technologies available to deliver solutions that meet the data analytics needs of DG COMP's operational units across the various instruments, in particular cartels and antitrust, mergers and the Digital Markets Act, be it throughout a data-intensive project/case or on an ad hoc basis;
- Providing DG COMP with state-of-the-art Forensic IT ("FIT") support for investigations across the various instruments, in particular cartels and antitrust, mergers, and the Digital Markets Act;
- Playing an active role in the network of Digital Investigation experts of the European Competition Network and liaising with the other departments of the European Institutions where FIT and data analytics are used;
- Continuously following technological developments and identifying topics and actions of interest for DG COMP.
