Report from the Commission to the European Parliament and the Council concerning the exchange through the European Criminal Records Information System
(ECRIS) of information extracted from criminal records between the Member States

{COM(2020) 778 final}

1. General principles of the ECRIS system

ECRIS is based on a decentralised architecture, interconnecting the Member States and enabling them to exchange efficiently criminal records information.

- For the purposes of ECRIS, each Member State designates a Central Authority (one or more) as a single point of contact and entrusts it with all responsibilities under the Framework Decision 2009/315/JHA.
- Information is exchanged electronically between the Central Authorities of Member States, using a standardised format allowing for an efficient and immediately understandable communication in all EU languages and within short deadlines of 10 or 20 days.
- A Member State having convicted a citizen of another Member State is legally obliged to notify through ECRIS, as soon as possible, the information related to the conviction to the Member State(s) of that person's nationality, including subsequent updates (notifications on new convictions and on updates).
- The Member State of nationality thus maintains a central repository of all convictions handed down against its nationals by criminal courts in the other EU Member States, in addition to any convictions handed down in the Member State itself. It is then obliged to store and update all information received through ECRIS, and to provide full criminal records information through ECRIS (replies to requests) when requested by another Member State (requests for information).
- The conviction information must be exchanged for the purpose of criminal proceedings and, if so permitted by national law, can be exchanged for other purposes, such as administrative procedures, employment, licences, etc.
- Although ECRIS is designed mostly to exchange information concerning EU nationals, it is also possible to exchange information on third country nationals and stateless persons (in the following: TCN) through this system. The supplementing legislation establishing a central ECRIS-TCN system to support efficient exchanges through ECRIS on TCN was adopted in 2019¹ and the system is currently under development.

The Member States were obliged to implement the system in legal and technical terms, interconnect electronically with each other, and start exchanges in line with the general principles described above, by 27 April 2012.

The graph below illustrates the evolution of the number of interconnections over the eight years of ECRIS operation. The total possible number of interconnections is 756 (27×28)².

*only 8 months of ECRIS activity in 2012

² This amount takes into account 28 Member States.

The table below shows the evolution of the interconnections between Member States over the years, with indication of the year when each mutual interconnection has been established.

3. Individual Member States statistics

The tables below present, for each Member State: the number of convictions of nationals of other Member States (EU non-nationals) handed down on its territory versus the number of sent notifications on new convictions; the number of notifications on updates on the previously notified convictions; the number of sent requests for information; as well as the number of received requests versus the number of sent replies and the number of replies sent after deadline - in the years 2017 - 2019.

The tables for Denmark, Cyprus, Greece, Lithuania and Slovenia do not contain conviction data as these Member States have not provided the Commission with such data.

The information on convictions of EU non-nationals is vital for evaluating whether all their convictions have been notified to the respective Member States of nationality.

In many Member States the volume of notifications on new convictions exceeds the volume of convictions of nationals of other Member States. This disproportion might have been caused by incorrect classification of updates as notifications on new convictions or by sending a large backlog of old notifications in a certain year.

The Netherlands sent data including not only convictions as defined in the Framework Decision 2009/315/JHA, but also other types of decisions in criminal proceedings registered in its criminal records. For France the final statistics on convictions for 2018 and 2019 were not available yet, so the numbers are provisional estimates from the Criminal policy evaluation unit (2018 data) and from the French Criminal Records (2019 data). The conviction data communicated by them cannot therefore serve for the purpose of analysis of the relation between convictions and notifications.

Italy and Poland explained that their high numbers of notifications on updates are due to sending updates related also to old convictions. Under Polish law, older convictions, under fulfillment of conditions stipulated by law, are deleted from the criminal records register and cannot be processed by the Polish Central Authority.
