

Consumer Conditions Survey: Consumers at home in the single market - 2021 edition

COUNTRY HIGHLIGHTS

ABOUT THE SURVEY

The Consumer Conditions Survey assesses consumers' attitudes, behaviours and experiences with respect to domestic and cross-border trade as well as other, related themes. Key topics include consumer confidence and knowledge; online purchasing; product safety; problems and complaints; and unfair and illicit commercial practices. The survey is conducted among representative samples of consumers in each of the 27 European Union Member States (EU27), as well as Iceland, Norway and the United Kingdom.

TECHNICAL NOTE

The survey is conducted among a nationally representative sample of the general public aged 18 and older in each of the 30 countries in scope. The sample size is 1,000 per country except in Luxembourg, Malta, Cyprus and Iceland, where the sample size is 500. In all countries, the survey is conducted using CATI (Computer Assisted Telephone Interviewing). Fieldwork for the latest edition took place between 21 October and 1 December 2020. In considering the changes between 2020 and 2018 it should be borne in mind that the 2020 fieldwork took place during the COVID-19 pandemic, a time of significant social and economic upheaval, which may have impacted the answers given. In this document, the differences between both years are shown in percentage point (pp) terms.

OVERVIEW OF FINDINGS

Eighty-seven percent of consumers in Luxembourg (LU) trust public authorities to protect their consumer rights, while 73% trust non-governmental consumer organisations to do so. Ninety-one percent believe that retailers and service providers respect their consumer rights.

A majority (67%) feel confident buying goods or services online from retailers and providers located in their own country, while 56% feel confident doing so from retailers and providers located in an/other EU country.

A majority (83%) of consumers in Luxembourg believe that most non-food products are safe and 80% believe most environmental claims about goods and services are reliable.

A total of 61% believe it is easy to settle disputes with retailers and providers through an out-of-court body, while 56% believe it is easy to do so through the courts.

In all, 19% display a high level of knowledge about their consumer rights, while 34% display a medium level of knowledge and 47% a low level (based on their responses to a series of knowledge-testing questions).

In the last 12 months, 9% of consumers in Luxembourg have experienced a problem with goods or services that they felt gave legitimate cause for complaint and have taken action to solve it. In comparison 5% have experienced such a problem but taken no action.

Six percent have experienced unfair terms and conditions in a contract, while 8% have had to pay unanticipated extra charges. Twelve percent report that a service provider increased the price they had to pay on a long-term contract without first giving them the option to cancel the contract.
