extended to Croatia, Slovakia, and Greece. Baltics under preparation to start in 2024.		implement projects under 21-27 programming period. Design of National Projects (ESF+) inspired by CuRI approach, such as the Land settlement; Assistance to municipalities with project management; and Development teams supporting the preparedness of municipalities for applying for integrated ERDF calls. Design of integrated ERDF calls, which reflect on the bottlenecks identified by CuRI.	Without these close interactions it would have been more difficult to solve concrete problems due to centralisation and/or fragmentation and complexity of knowledge required. This has been the role of the CuRI Steering Committee to discuss problems and solve them. The initiative also helped identify institutional gaps, build up organisational capacity at local level and prepare a robust project pipeline in strategic areas for EU funding. One of the important areas of support is also social inclusion of MRC (as one of the components under CuRI). Thanks to CuRI and its identified bottlenecks and lessons learnt, it greatly helped the national authorities to improve the implementation structure for the new programming period 21-27, which should enhance spending of EU funds not only under this priority. https://www.worldbank.org/en/region/eca/publication/slovakia-catching-up-regions
Housing First, Romodrom, Nová možnost-New possibility, Czechia	ESF 2019-2022 ESF+ 2022-2026, OP Employment	Integrated intervention combining different measures Cooperation with private landlords Building positive relationships among Roma and non-Roma residents	The project had two objectives. The primary objective was to obtain and permanently maintain standard housing for the most vulnerable people; the secondary objective was to improve the overall situation of the supported target group in all other key areas of their lives (e.g., employment, financial situation, family relations, etc.). The aim was to make clients as independent as possible and to help them maintain their new housing even after the end of their participation in the project. Thanks to the project and the cooperation with private landlords, housing for 45 Roma households was provided in four towns of the Moravian-Silesian region who often do not meet the conditions for the allocation of municipal flats or do not have enough money to find adequate housing. https://romodrom.cz/en/our-activities/housing/housing-first/
