This privacy statement explains the reason for the processing of your personal data, the way we collect, handle and ensure protection of all personal data provided, how that information is used and what rights you have in relation to your personal data. It also specifies the contact details of the responsible Data Controller with whom you may exercise your rights, the Data Protection Officer and the European Data Protection Supervisor.

The Commission adopted, on 16 November 1993, the first set of guidelines on participation in private law bodies¹. The current Guidelines were adopted by the Commission in 2004 [C(2004)2958].

The consultations may concern the approval of existing participations; the interruption of an existing participation and the exceptional authorisation of a new participation according to the applicable rules;
- Updating the inventory of Commission participations in private law bodies.

Your personal data will not be used for any automated decision-making including profiling.
