

2026 Rule of Law Report - targeted stakeholder consultation

Fields marked with * are mandatory.

Introduction

The annual Rule of Law Report lies at the centre of the Annual Rule of Law Cycle, which acts as a preventive tool, deepening multilateral dialogue and joint awareness of rule of law issues. So far, six editions of the Rule of Law Report have been published since 2020.

As every year, the Commission would like to invite the stakeholders to provide contributions to the 2026 Rule of Law Report. On the basis of these contributions and on-going developments, further targeted questions may be shared at a later stage of preparation of the 2026 Rule of Law Report, in particular in the context of country visits, or bilateral contacts.

The Commission invites stakeholders to provide contributions which include:

(1) developments and measures taken in relation to the recommendations in the 2025 report,
(2) developments related to topics covered in the 2025 country chapters, as well as any other new developments related to the rule of law.

The input should consist of a short summary, if possible in English, covering the areas referred to below. Legislation or other documents may be referenced with a link. Contributions should focus on significant developments since the last Rule of Law Report both as regards the legal framework and its implementation in practice.

This questionnaire also integrates the separate questionnaire on the single market from last year. In addition to these specific questions, respondents to the questionnaire are invited to consider the Single Market dimension, including any relevant cross-border issues, in all their answers.

Where questions of particular relevance under the single market dimension, this is indicated before the relevant question.

[1] Unless the information was already submitted in the input for the previous Rule of Law Reports.

Type of information to be included:

Under each of the four pillars, the replies should include references to the following types of information:

A) Legislative developments

- Newly adopted legislation
- legislative drafts currently discussed in Parliament
- legislative plans envisaged by the Government

B) Policy developments

- Implementation and enforcement of legislation
- evaluations, impact assessment, surveys
- white papers/strategies/actions plans/consultation processes
- follow-up to reports/recommendations of Council of Europe bodies or other international organisations
- important administrative measures
- generalised practices

C) Developments related to the judiciary / independent authorities

- important case law by national courts
- important decision/opinions from independent bodies/authorities
- state of play on terms, nominations and expired mandates for high-level positions (e.g. Supreme Court, Constitutional Court, Council for the Judiciary, Prosecutor General, heads of independent authorities included in the scope of the request for input[2])

D) Any other relevant developments

- National authorities are free to add any further information, which they deem relevant; however, this should be short and to the point.

Where relevant, please also indicate whether the developments reported are linked to the implementation of reforms and investments under the national Recovery Resilience Plan. To simplify your answers to the questionnaire, if there are no developments, it is sufficient to indicate this and the information covered in the contributions for the previous Rule of Law Reports does not need not be repeated.

[2] Such as: media regulatory authorities and bodies, national human rights institutions, equality bodies, ombudsman institutions, supreme audit institutions and, where they exist, transparency authorities.

Questions on horizontal developments

In this section, you are invited to provide information on general horizontal developments or trends, both positive and negative, covering all or several Member States. In particular, you could mention issues that are common to several Member States, as well as best practices identified in one Member State that could be replicated. Moreover, you could refer to your activities in the area of the four pillars and sub-topics (an overview of all sub-topics can be found below), and, if you represent a Network of national organisations, to the support you might have provided to one of your national members.

Overview topics for contribution

The Austrian Chamber of Civil-Law Notaries (ÖNK) emphasises the fundamental role of the rule of law in securing democracy and EU values. Among the legal professions, in 22 EU Member States the notariat is one of the key pillars guaranteeing legal certainty and the rule of law. In this vein, the ÖNK was pleased to see this fact briefly acknowledged in the last 2025 Rule of Law Report. As notaries fulfil a number of court tasks, in particular with regard to non-contentious procedures and against the background of the need to protect their independence and impartiality, it is crucial to have them considered even more in the 2026 Rule of Law Report of the European Commission.

Due to the notaries' significant role in improving the efficiency of justice systems, the ÖNK would welcome a more developed separate section on the notarial profession and its respective contributions in the 2026 Rule of Law Report, building on the statement in the 2025 Rule of Law Report (p. 11), "Efficient, well-functioning, and fully independent justice systems are essential for applying and enforcing both EU and national laws". The European Parliament also emphasised the importance to include notaries in specific chapters in the rule of law report in its own report on the 2023 Rule of Law Report of the European Commission (Resolution of 28 February 2024: P9_TA(2024)0108, point 86) stating: "[The European Parliament] Recognises the role of notaries in numerous Member States, which functionally exercise court tasks; believes that notaries' contribution to rule of law standards should be addressed in relevant country chapters of subsequent editions of the Rule of Law Report;"

Emphasising the request of last year's contribution, the European Commission should consider the relevant role of notaries as and impartial public office holders in particular with a view to tasks alleviating courts and adding transfer such non-contentious procedures to independent, such as notaries. As in all other EU Member States with a Latin-type notarial system, the Austrian notarial profession is subject to professional regulations that guarantee its independence and impartiality. This makes the notarial profession particularly well suited to taking on tasks that relieve the burden on the courts.

Moreover, a separate section on the notariat would support safeguarding the standards of the notariat as impartial public office holders with their important function for fulfilling public tasks (e.g. public preventive control in the context of business registers or as agents of the courts – court commissioners), offering impartial legal expertise and counselling to citizens and businesses alike.

Against this backdrop, the ÖNK echoes the potential role of notaries with regard to non-contentious civil procedures. Notarial involvement as means to increase efficiency of justice systems thus may contribute significantly to the access to justice and the rule of law, which will result in a real added value for citizens. This point is also reflected in the Governmental Programme of Austria (Regierungsprogramm: <https://www.bundestkanzleramt.gv.at/bundestkanzleramt/die-bundesregierung/regierungsdokumente.html>, p. 137 – "Reform des Scheidungsrechts"), where a reform of the divorce law is announced. A view in other EU Member States, such as Spain or Estonia, shows the significant benefit notarial involvement could have in this regard. Another interesting point in the Governmental Programme (p. 140) is the announced reform of the company law register, where notaries also can play a vital role in alleviating courts.

Currently, the Austrian Chamber of Civil-Law notaries also coordinates the "Justice Without Litigation II" project (JuWiLi II, www.juwili.eu), a EU-wide project funded by the EU Justice Programme, to map best practices across Europe on how notaries (can) provide support to courts. Notaries thus play a crucial role in supporting the efficiency of the judicial system. Moreover, notaries have a significant part when it comes to upholding the rule of law, such as when it comes to the prevention of fraud and money laundering.

Through their day-to-day practice with their impartial role and public-preventive control function, notaries are essential actors when it comes to the rule of law. In this vein, their contribution to the current state and future developments should be even more considered in the next EU rule of law reports.

Questions for contribution

Under each pillar, you are invited to provide information on measures taken to implement the recommendations addressed to the Member State in the 2025 Rule of Law report, as well as developments with regard to the points raised in the respective country chapter of the 2025 Rule of Law Report and any other significant developments since January 2025 and up to the date of submission<sup>[3]</sup>. Please always include a link to and reference relevant legislation/documents (in the national language and/or where available, in English). Significant developments can include challenges, positive developments and best practices, covering both legislative developments or implementation and practices.

Information provided in reply to the first question under each pillar, related to the follow-up to the recommendations, does not need to be repeated in subsequent parts of the questionnaire, but can be cross-referenced in the subsequent questions, where relevant. All other questions are not limited to the recommendations, but as in previous years, cover the entire scope of the Report.

Member State/enlargement country covered in contribution [only one choice possible]

If you wish to submit information concerning several Member States/enlargement countries, please fill in the questionnaire separately for each country. There is no limit to the number of contributions submitted by a single participant.
