

Call for proposals: Joint harmonised European Union programme of business and consumer surveys

The European Commission is launching a call for proposals (ref. ECFIN/2008/A3-003) for carrying out surveys as part of the Joint Harmonised EU Programme of Business and Consumer Surveys (approved by the Commission on 12th July 2006) in the following EU Member States: Austria, Ireland and Malta.

The survey programme is designed to gather information on the state of the economies in the EU Member States so as to be able to compare their business cycles for EMU (Economic and Monetary Union) management purposes. It has become an indispensable tool in the EMU economic surveillance process, as well as for general economic policy purposes.

The co-operation between the Commission and the successful candidates shall take the form of framework partnership agreements over a period of three years.

Instructions and rules for drawing up and submitting proposals, covering all relevant information, formalities and documentation:

Call for proposals: Timely High-Frequency Indicators for Global and Regional Trade

The European Commission is launching a call for proposals (ref. ECFIN/A/2008/002) for the construction and monthly production of timely indicators of global and regional trade developments. The global indicators are constructed bottom-up from regional indicators. The regional level includes all EU Member States, as well as the Candidate Countries.

The indicators of global trade will be essential elements in the timely assessment of the global cycle. The project will also improve the assessment and forecast of the trade and GDP forecasts of non-EU countries and regions in the Commission's full-fledged and interim forecasting exercises.

The regional indicators will be used by the Commission to calculate timely monthly measures of export performance for the EU, the euro area and each individual Member State. Such measures will be very useful tools in the EMU economic surveillance process, for present as well as future euro-area Member States.

This co-operation shall take the form of a framework partnership agreement between the Commission and one institute over a period of four years.

Call for proposals : A European Forecasting Network

The European Commission is launching a call for proposals with the purpose of ensuring a long term co-operation with a European Forecasting Network. This co-operation shall take the form of a partnership framework agreement between the Commission and the network over a period of three years. Under this partnership agreement, which will specify the common objectives and the nature of the actions planned, specific annual grant agreements may be concluded between the parties.

- The network's tasks will be to complement the analysis of the Commission concerning economic developments and economic policies in the euro area.
- The network should consist of independent research institutes and should produce bi-annual reports containing a macro-economic forecast of the euro area together with an analysis of topical policy issues.
- This work should focus exclusively on the euro area as a whole and aim at providing additional analytical support to economic policy discussions of the Commission and the Eurogroup.

Call for proposals: A European Forecasting Network

The European Commission is launching a call for proposals for the set-up of a European Network of economic research institutes. This European Forecasting Network (EFN) will be formed by leading research institutes from EU Member States. The purpose of the EFN is to improve the understanding of euro-area economic developments and policies, to augment the analytical basis for economic policy decisions in the euro area and to increase the visibility of Economic and Monetary Union in the Member States. To achieve these objectives, the EFN will produce independent, rigorous and joint assessments of the economic situation, the aim being to identify key policy challenges in the euro area.

Call for proposals: Joint harmonised European Union programme of business and consumer surveys (1999/C264/07)

The European Commission is launching a call for proposals for carrying out surveys as part of the Joint Harmonised European Union Programme of Business and Consumer Surveys. The programme is designed to gather information on the state of the MemberStates' economies so as to be able to compare their business cycles for EMU (Economic and Monetary Union) management purposes. It has become an indispensable tool in the EMU economic surveillance process.

Instructions and rules for drawing up and submitting proposals, covering all the relevant information, formalities and documentation, are given below
