

European Commission

Monitoring the Application of European Union Law

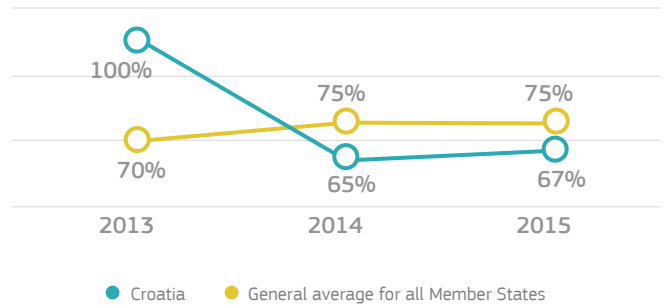

Annual Report 2015

New complaints against Croatia fell in 2015 after increasing sharply in 2014, its first full year as an EU Member State. The number of new EU Pilot files against Croatia moved in parallel with new complaints. However, twice as many infringement cases were open at the end of 2015 as a year earlier. In contrast, the number of new infringement cases for late transposition halved in 2015.

New EU Pilot files opened

EU Pilot files: evolution of the resolution rate

INFRINGEMENT CASES

Infringement cases open on 31 December

There were 21 infringement cases open against Croatia at the end of 2015, just over double the 10 cases open a year earlier.

18 new infringement cases opened in 2015: main policy areas

TRANSPOSITION OF DIRECTIVES

New late transposition infringement cases

Six new late transposition infringement cases were opened against Croatia in 2015, just under half the thirteen cases opened a year earlier.

6 new late transposition infringement cases opened in 2015: main policy areas

More information:

European Commission Staff Working document - Annual Report 2015 "Monitoring the application of Union Law" (part II: Member States)

There were no major Court rulings in 2015.