However, the IBSFC ceased to exist in 2005 and the objectives under the Salmon Action Plan have expired in practice. For these reasons the development of a new long-term management scheme for salmon in the Baltic Sea is required.

This provision thus foresees an amendment of the regulation by the Council only. Under the TFEU, the co-legislators may not delegate such powers to the Council. Article 290 would apply for such a circumstance, but the delegation must be made in favour of the Commission and under the conditions set therein.
