

2024 Rule of Law Report - targeted stakeholder consultation

Fields marked with * are mandatory.

Introduction

The annual Rule of Law Report lies at the centre of the Annual Rule of Law Cycle, which acts as a preventive tool, deepening multilateral dialogue and joint awareness of rule of law issues. So far, four editions of the Rule of Law Report have been published in 2020, 2021, 2022 and 2023.

The Commission would like to invite stakeholders to provide contributions to the 2024 Rule of Law Report. This survey provides information on the type of information and topics that will be covered in the 2024 Rule of Law Report, in order to allow stakeholders to provide input. More targeted input may be requested at a later stage of preparation of the 2024 Rule of Law Report, including in the context of country visits, or bilateral contacts.

The 2024 Rule of Law Report will continue to deepen the assessment under the existing four pillars, and will also follow-up on the implementation of the recommendations to Member States, that were issued as part of the 2023 Rule of Law Report. The contribution to be provided should include (1) information on measures taken to implement the recommendations addressed to the Member State in the 2023 Rule of Law report, as well as developments with regard to the points raised in the respective country chapter and (2) any other significant developments since January 2023^[1] falling under the ‘type of information’ outlined in section II.

The input should consist of a short summary, if possible in English, covering the areas referred to below. Legislation or other documents may be referenced with a link. Contributions should focus on significant developments since the last Rule of Law Report both as regards the legal framework and its implementation in practice.

[1] Unless the information was already submitted in the input for the previous Rule of Law Reports.

Type of information

The topics are structured according to four pillars: I. Justice system; II. Anti-corruption framework; III. Media pluralism; and IV. Other institutional issues related to checks and balances. The replies could include aspects set out below under each pillar. This can include challenges, current work streams, positive developments and best practices:

A) Legislative developments

- Newly adopted legislation
- Legislative drafts currently discussed in Parliament
- Legislative plans envisaged by the Government

B) Policy developments

- Implementation of legislation
- Evaluations, impact assessment, surveys
- White papers/strategies/actions plans/consultation processes
- Follow-up to reports/recommendations of Council of Europe bodies or other international organisations

- Important decision/opinions from independent bodies/authorities
- State of play on terms, nominations and expired mandates for high-level positions (e.g. Supreme Court, Constitutional Court, Council for the Judiciary, heads of independent authorities included in the scope of the questionnaire[2])

D) Any other relevant developments

- Respondents are free to add any further information, which they deem relevant; however, this should be short and to the point.

Please also indicate whether the developments reported are linked to the implementation of reforms and investments under the RRP, where applicable.

If there are no changes, it is sufficient to indicate this and the information covered in the contributions for the previous Rule of Law Reports should not be repeated.

Romania registers several cases of violation of the rights of persons with intellectual/psychosocial disabilities at the ECHR for which it is regularly reviewed by the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe. Most of these cases concern the lack of access to justice or the lack of a specific legal framework adapted to the needs of the persons who are either suspects/accused or serving sentences, victims or witnesses.

During 2023, 3 landmark cases against Romania concerning the rights of persons with intellectual /psychosocial disabilities were scheduled on the agenda of the Committee of Ministers in June, in order to examine the progress of implementation and the degree of transposition and compliance with the recommendations made: 1. CLR on behalf of Valentin Campeanu v. Romania (47848/08); 2. N v. Romania (59152/08) and R.D. and I.M.D v. Romania (35402/14); 3. Parascineti v. Romania (32060/05) and C. Teodorescu v. Romania (22883/05)

With regard to the case CLR on behalf of Valentin Campeanu v. Romania, during 2022 Law 140/2022 came into force, which amended the civil legislation on the capacity of the individual, thus introducing a gradual system of support and guardianship for adults with mental disabilities. However, by Dec. 2022 the law could not be implemented as there were no methodological rules necessary for carrying out psychiatric and psychological assessments, in the absence of which the files regarding the adoption of another protective measure could not be judged in courts.

We underline that in the initial form of the methodological rules - the rights and interests of persons with intellectual/psychosocial disabilities in need of review or the establishment of a protective measure were seriously affected. No form of settlement for medical services was provided for and the costs would have to be borne by the persons concerned.

Following our advocacy efforts with the competent public institutions (Ministry of Health and The National House of Public Pensions), the methodological rules were amended in August 2023, in order to charge for medical documents, but without specifying who bears the costs of medical services. The general practice, both throughout 2023 and in the present, is that specialists in both psychiatry and psychology who are open to carrying out assessments do so mainly in the private sector and the persons who need these services are obliged to pay for them.

Given that the review of persons who have been placed under legal guardianship under the previous legislation is carried out only on the basis of medical and psychological assessment reports, we believe that such an approach, in fact prevents free access to justice.

During the monitoring activity carried out in 2023, numerous particularly serious situations were reported to the authorities. Such cases included people with intellectual/psychosocial disabilities who were either exploited or inhumanely treated in social care homes. Among these, we can name the cases that came to the attention of the criminal investigation bodies (Directorate for the Investigation of Organized Crime and Terrorism/DIICOT of the Public Ministry), namely:

- The case of the "horror shelters" in Ilfov county - DIICOT coordinated a large-scale action in Ilfov county, raiding several centres for disabled people/centres for the elderly and vulnerable people, that were previously monitored by CLR (<https://www.crj.ro/diicot-cunoaste-mai-bine-legislatia-si-standardele-din-materia-asistentei-sociale-a-persoanelor-cu-dizabilitati-institutionalizate-decat-autoritatile-competente/>)
- The case of the Mures County Social Care Home (<https://www.crj.ro/casuta-lu-min-bardesti-mures-comunicat-de-presa/>) - where, during the monitoring visit several people were found held in inhumane conditions.

Regarding the Committee of the Ministers of the Council of Europe Decision from June 2023 in cases H46-23 Parascineti, the group Cristian Teodorescu, N., and R.D. and I.M.D. against Romania (Applications no. 32060/05, 22883/05, 59152/08 and 35402/14) – a firm recommendation was made towards Romanian authorities to submit to the Committee, no later than the 30 September 2023, a clear and precise roadmap with a tight timetable for the completion and for the adoption at the highest level of the Government of a comprehensive action plan to fully and lastingly address the structural deficiencies revealed by these judgments, putting to good use the initiatives driven by public stakeholders and by civil society and the work done in this context. The adoption procedure of the Action Plan is still ongoing, although the initial deadlines for adoption were September and April 2022.

D. The enabling framework for civil society

Measures regarding the framework for civil society organisations and human rights defenders (e.g. legal framework and its application in practice incl. registration and dissolution rules)

5000 character(s) maximum

Rules and practices having an impact on the effective operation and safety of civil society organisations and human rights defenders. This includes measures for protection from attacks – verbal, physical or on-line –, intimidation, legal threats incl. SLAPPs, negative narratives or smear campaigns, measures capable of affecting the public perception of civil society organisations, etc. It also includes measures to monitor threats or attacks and dedicated support services

5000 character(s) maximum

One of the main activities of the CLR is the monitoring of public and private social care homes where people with intellectual and/or psychosocial disabilities are institutionalized. Thus, about two months after the publication of the reports and materials resulting from the CLR's monitoring of social care homes (<https://www.crj.ro/rapoarte-de-monitorizare-si-raspunsuri/>) with serious problems in Ilfov county – CLR received an official document from the Ministry of Labour, which invoked several aspects that were far from being in line with reality and, as a consequence, denounced the cooperation protocol concluded between the Ministry and the CLR (<https://www.crj.ro/crj-respecta-legea-si-apara-persoanele-vulnerabile-ministrul-muncii-se-opune-necunoastere-sau-rea-vointa/>). This protocol allowed the teams coordinated by the CLR to enter into public and private social care homes, psychiatric hospitals and any other facilities for people with intellectual and psychosocial disabilities in order to ascertain their living conditions and how their rights are being respected.

Moreover, during an official meeting, it was stated and praised by the representatives of the General County Directorates for Social Assistance and Child Protection that the protocol in question had been denounced and that "no one will be disturbed by the visits of the CLR".

Also in this file, after the raids were carried out and more information about the investigations appeared in the public space, in some transcripts made public, it appeared that in the discussions between representatives of the social care homes in question and people from the public administration, people with influence, there were discussions about finding a way to close the CLR or threats that if someone from the CLR would cross the threshold of one of the social care homes he/she/they would be physically harmed. In this regard, please bear in mind that the concerted actions of the state authorities, in this case, were not only intended to have an intimidating effect, but even aimed at curtailing the activity carried out in order not to contravene the interests of certain influential factors.

Organisation of financial support for civil society organisations and human rights defenders (e.g. framework to ensure access to funding, and for financial viability, taxation/incentive/donation systems, measures to ensure a fair distribution of funding)

5000 character(s) maximum

Rules and practices on the participation of civil society organisations and human rights defenders to the decision-making process (e.g. measures related to dialogue between authorities and civil society, participation of civil society in policy development and decision-making, consultation, dialogues, etc.)

5000 character(s) maximum

E. Initiatives to foster a rule of law culture

Measures to foster a rule of law culture (e.g. debates in national parliaments on the rule of law, public information campaigns on rule of law issues, contributions from civil society, education initiatives etc.)
