

2024 Rule of Law Report - targeted stakeholder consultation

Fields marked with * are mandatory.

Introduction

The annual Rule of Law Report lies at the centre of the Annual Rule of Law Cycle, which acts as a preventive tool, deepening multilateral dialogue and joint awareness of rule of law issues. So far, four editions of the Rule of Law Report have been published in 2020, 2021, 2022 and 2023.

The Commission would like to invite stakeholders to provide contributions to the 2024 Rule of Law Report. This survey provides information on the type of information and topics that will be covered in the 2024 Rule of Law Report, in order to allow stakeholders to provide input. More targeted input may be requested at a later stage of preparation of the 2024 Rule of Law Report, including in the context of country visits, or bilateral contacts.

The 2024 Rule of Law Report will continue to deepen the assessment under the existing four pillars, and will also follow-up on the implementation of the recommendations to Member States, that were issued as part of the 2023 Rule of Law Report. The contribution to be provided should include (1) information on measures taken to implement the recommendations addressed to the Member State in the 2023 Rule of Law report, as well as developments with regard to the points raised in the respective country chapter and (2) any other significant developments since January 2023<sup>[1]</sup> falling under the ‘type of information’ outlined in section II.

The input should consist of a short summary, if possible in English, covering the areas referred to below. Legislation or other documents may be referenced with a link. Contributions should focus on significant developments since the last Rule of Law Report both as regards the legal framework and its implementation in practice.

[1] Unless the information was already submitted in the input for the previous Rule of Law Reports.

D) Any other relevant developments

- Respondents are free to add any further information, which they deem relevant; however, this should be short and to the point.

I. Justice System

Please provide information on measures taken to follow-up on the recommendations received in the 2023 Report regarding the justice system (if applicable)

5000 character(s) maximum

A. Independence

Appointment and selection of judges, prosecutors and court presidents (incl. judicial review)

(The reference to 'judges' concerns judges at all level and types of courts as well as judges at constitutional courts)

5000 character(s) maximum

According to the Constitution, the Justices of the Constitutional Court are appointed by the President of the Republic with the consent of the Senate of the Parliament of the Czech Republic (hereinafter "Senate"). The President of the Republic selects a candidate whose name is then sent to the Senate with a request to express its consent to his/her appointment as a Justice of the Constitutional Court. Consent to the appointment is given if a simple majority of senators present vote in favour.

If the Senate grants consent, the President appoints the candidate as a Justice of the Constitutional Court, and the candidate thereby becomes a Justice of the Constitutional Court. The Justice's appointment becomes effective upon taking the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution and administered by the President of the Republic. It is an indispensable condition to assuming the office that an appointed Justice of the Constitutional Court take the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution and administered by the President. If they do not take the oath, or do so with reservations, the candidate does not become a Justice of the Constitutional Court.

The President and two Vice-Presidents of the Constitutional Court are also named by the President of the Republic, who chooses them from among the Justices of the Constitutional Court and does not need approval from any other body for their appointment.

In 2023, six new Justice were appointed to replace Justices that left the Court after their terms of office had expired. At the end of the year, all the vacancies were filled at the Constitutional Court.

Irremovability of judges, including transfers, (incl. as part of judicial map reform), dismissal and retirement regime of judges, court presidents and prosecutors (incl. judicial review)

5000 character(s) maximum

The term of office of Justice of the Constitutional Court is ten years, the Constitution allows for re-appointments and does not specify any upper age limit.

A citizen of the Czech Republic is eligible for appointment as a Justice of the Constitutional Court provided that (s)he has reached at least 40 years of age, has an university degree in law and has been active in a legal profession for at least ten years. The office of Justice of the Constitutional Court is incompatible with the office of President of the Republic, member of Parliament or other office in public administration or any other paid office or profitable activity (other than scientific, teaching or artistic one). Moreover, a Justice of the Constitutional Court may not be member of any political party or political movement.

The Constitutional Court and its Justices have immunity ensuring their independence. A Justice of the Constitutional Court cannot be criminally prosecuted without the approval of the Senate and may be arrested only if caught committing a crime or immediately afterwards. If the Senate denies approval, criminal prosecution is impossible for the duration of office of the given Justice of the Constitutional Court.

A Justice of the Constitutional Court cannot be removed from the office; only in the case of a serious disciplinary offence or in a situation where a Justice performs duties or activities incompatible with the office of Justice of the Constitutional Court, or if a Justice breaches the prohibition of membership in a political party or political movement, or fails to participate in dealings of the Constitutional Court for a period exceeding one year, the Plenum of the Constitutional Court may decide on termination of his/her office in a special disciplinary proceedings. The tenure of Justice of the Constitutional Court terminates automatically in the event that a Justice is convicted of an intentional criminal offence or if she/he decides to resign.

Accessibility of courts (e.g. court/legal fees, legal aid, language)

There is no court fee introduced for institution of proceedings before the Constitutional Court. However, the applicants are obliged to be represented by an attorney.

Costs of proceedings before the Constitutional Court (e.g. cash expenses, foregone income, attorney's fees), that a party or secondary party incurs are generally paid by the party or secondary party. However, the Constitutional Court may, in exceptional cases, and based on the results of the proceeding (i.e. based on success in the matter) require a party or secondary party to a proceeding to fully or partly compensate another party or secondary party for its costs.

Costs incurred by presentation of evidence to the Constitutional Court and interpreting costs are paid by the Constitutional Court.

The Constitutional Court may grant the complainant compensation of attorney's fees, under the following conditions:

1. the complainant's personal and property situation justifies it (in particular, if the complainant does not have sufficient funds to pay an attorney),
2. the constitutional complaint was not rejected, and
3. the complainant expressly requests this before the first hearing.

If a complainant asks for compensation of attorney's fees, s/he must of course prove that his or her personal and property situation justifies it. If the Constitutional Court grants the request, the complainant's attorney's fees are borne fully or partly by the state, i.e. the Constitutional Court. However, if it is later determined that the complainant's personal and property situation did not justify this, the Constitutional Court may review its decision and reverse it, including retroactively.
